MEMORIAL DAY AT LURAY

By Associated Press. NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 24.—The presentation of degrees to the members of the graduating class in all the departments of the University, and the conferring of honorary degrees by President Hadley formed the chief function of the closing day of Yale's commencement week. The Cobden Club medal for proficiency is political economy was awarded to M. B. Terrell, Decherd, Tenn., of the academic senior class, while the John A. Porter University prize was won by Richard Webb, of Durham, N. C., a graduate school student, for an essay on Sidney Levier.

At the annual banquet of the alumni, at which about fifteen hundred men were present, President Hadley delivered an address which was largely a refort of the work during the past year.

TRIBUTE OF THEIR LOVE

Congregation Celebrate Jubilee of Father O'Rellly.

BEAUTIFUL OCCASION

Has Proved a Wonderful and Touching Manifestation of the Love of a Congregationfor a Pastor-Public Reception Last Night.

With the public reception held last night in Belvidere Hall, the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Father James B. O'Reilly, paster of the Sacred Heart Church, of this city, was brought to ar

The celebration has proved a wonderful and touching manifestation of the love of a congregation for a pastor, who during the past ten or twelve years has devoted himself heart and soul to the good of his people. It was not of his choice that the demonstration was made, but the congregation forcibly took matters into their own hands and observed the event in a manner befitting its interest and in a manner befitting its interest and importance. The exercises began last sunday, and, extending through four days, came to a close last night with the great public reception.

THE CHILDREN.

One of the most notable features of the entire celebration was the greeting given by the children on Tuesday afternoon to the beloved pastor. The exercises were held at 5 o'clock in the basement of the church in the presence of an audience to the beloved pastor. The exercises were held at 5 o'clock in the basement of the church in the presence of an audience which entirely filled the place. A programme of unusual excellence was car-ried out. All of the children who attend the Sacred Heart School were there, each the Sacred Heart School were there, each little girl being dressed in white. The different classes were represented by speakers who told Father O'Relly of their regard for him. One little tot of six or seven years presented him with a hand-painted booklet, containing portraits of the children. One of the girls was a Protestant, who like all others who have met him, has learned to love the genial Protestant, who like all others who have met him, has laarned to love the genial and kindly pastor of Sacred Heart, and she, too, arose to express her pleasure and happiness at the auspicious event. The boys declared roundly that they would grow up to be men and stand solidly around their pastor, and give him any protection and help he may need at any time in his life.

Father O'Reilly was visibly affected by the scene. Particularly was this the case when the tiny little girls gathered together and sang "Sweet Jesus, Bless Him." those in front kneeling down that Him," those in front kneeling down that the heads of the others behind them might appear. Again was the scene a striking one when the children sang of the silver jublice, to the accompaniment of little silver bells they carried. Father O'Reilly made such response as his feelings would permit, and then the little ones all knelt and received his blessing. and received his blessing.

JUBILEE MASS.

JUBILEE MASS.

Yesterday morning the jubilee mass was celebrated. Father O'Relliy officiated, and the church was crowded again. About seventeen priests, many of them from out of town, were present in the sanctuary. The church was beautifully decorated with candles and palms and flowers.

The sermon for the occasion was preached by one of the visitors who took occasion to pay a, high and deseryed tribute to the pastor of Sacred Heart. He dwelt particularly upon Father O'Relliy's kindness and thoughtfulness toward the young priests who have from time to time been associated with him at the Sacred Heart Church. He admitted that the love felt by the congregation for the pastor was great, but he declared that throughout the State Father O'Relliy was held in almost equal esteem by his fellowministers. The difficult mass in Latin was sung by children who did wonderfully well. They have been in training some sung by children who did wonderfully well. They have been in training some time for the occasion, and they acquitted elves in a splendid manner. Presented With Purse.

The reception last night was a fitting ending to the celebration. Great numbers of the friends and admirers of the popular priest gathered to shake him by the hand and express their love and esteem for him. Captain Frank Cunningteem for him. Captain Frank Cunningham was present and sang several solos. Stein's Orchestra was also there with its sweet music. Among those in the auditoric were Catholics from all parts of the city, including many priests. The cilmax of the evening came with the presentation to Father O'Reilly of a purse of money amounting to nearly $1,500. The entire congregation contributed to the fund, and the congregation contributed to the fund, and the congregation contributed to the fund, and the congregation contributed to the fund, and amounting to hearing show. The canter congregation contributed to the fund, and the purse was presented by Mr. Creamer with appropriate remarks. In his speech Mr. Creamer expressed the hope that the purse would enable Father O'Reilly to pay a visit to his old home and his aged parents in Ireland. It is known that he has long desired to do so. Father O'Reilly made suitable response to the address, although he was almost too affected to give utterance to his thoughts. He expressed heartfelt thanks for the wonderful tribute paid to him, and declared that he was unworthy of it all. The exercises closed after a most delightful evening. The attendance was very large and very enthuslastic. All of the people went forward and shook Father O'Reilly by the hand.

LONGLIVE PETERTHEFIRST

Exultant Shouts Wherever He Appears. Many Welcomes and Responses. Impressive Ceremonies at the Cathedral

BELGRADE, June 24—King Peter arrived here at 10 o'clock this morning and was received with great enthusiasm. The ministers, government officials, judges, municipal and military authorities and leading citizens were assembled on the platform of the railroad station, which was profusely decorated.

The only foreign representatives who participated in the reception of the King were the Russian minister, M. Tcharykoff, and the Austrian minister, Herr Dumba, with the members of their respective legations. A guard of honor, with a band, saluted as King Peter descended from his car and greated the Cabinet ministers. The premier, M. Avakumovich, introduced M. Tcharykoff to the King and the Russian minister presented the Austrian minister. Thus the Austrian minister had no intercourse with the provisional government, with which, thus far, he has had no relations.

A procession was formed and the King proceeded to the cathedral. The streets were lined with troops and crowded with recoils.

From the moment King Peter left the train and the band welcomed him with playing the Servian national anthem, his progress was followed by prolonged, hearty cheers and exuitant shouts of "Long live Peter the First" wherever he appeared.

The premier made a speech before the Kings departure from the railroad station, welcoming His Majesty, who, in a brief reply, expressed his appreciation of his election to the throne. The King then exchanged greetings with the cabinet ministers, including Colonel Maschin, minister of public works, who took a leading part in the assassinations, and interchanged compliments with the Russian and Austrian ministers.

The ceremony at the Cathedral lasted half an hour. The edifice was crowded. On the arrival of the King mass was celebrated with the brilliant observance of the Greek ritual, the King standing erect and impassive, maintaining the same grave demeanor which marked his movements throughout.

After the mass the Metropolitan made a short address. A special prayer for the King was then offered and the splendid choir chanted the old Gregorian, "Kyrie Eleison."

are large eating ulcers.

Whenever a sore or ulcer is slow in healing then you may be sure something is radically wrong with your blood. Some old taint or poison that has been slumbering there for years, is beginning to assert itself, and breaks out and becomes a bad ulcer and perhaps the beginning of Cancer. These old sores are rooted in the blood, and while washes, soaps, salves, etc., keep the surface clean, they are not healing. A blood medicine to purify and strengthen the polluted blood and a tonic to build up the general system is what is needed, and S. S. S. is just such a remedy. No poison is so powerful and no germ so deadly that this great vegetable blood remedy cannot reach it, and ulcers of every kind quickly yield to its wonderful curative properties.
